

Instructions for Sky Gazing

by Lama John Makransky

See the space.

You are the space.

Be the space.

Let the outer space of sky awaken the inner space of mind.

The space pervading everything.

Then rest as the space undivided between outer and inner.

Not to meditate on the space.

But to recognize that you are that.